The Rain Wizard 50 Diverter Kit features a Rain Wizard 50 and a plastic downspout diverter. The Rain Wizard 50 is a rustic, faux oak rain barrel with a distressed wood-grain texture that's highly detailed. It holds 50 gallons and has a fine mesh screen to keep out debris along with front-facing overflow. This barrel features connection points for linking to other rain barrels and a flat-back that can sit right up against exterior walls. A standard 3/4" brass spigot is included. Incredibly strong, this rain barrel can take heavy impacts and holds up against the weather thanks to its sturdy, BPA-free plastic construction. The included diverter kit easily connects your downspout to the rain barrel. Simply drill a hole in the downspout and rain barrel, insert the rubber connectors and connect with the included hose. When the barrel is connected via the diverter, most of the water flowing through the downspout fills the barrel. Once it is completely full, the excess water builds up in the connection tube and begins flowing down the downspout as it normally would. A plug is also included so the barrel can be disconnected, and the downspout can return to normal function. Made in the USA.
